Scott Miller has been with Franklin Covey Co. for over two decades and currently serves as the executive vice president of Thought Leadership. He is the host of the FranklinCovey sponsored On Leadership With Scott Miller, a weekly leadership webcast, podcast, and newsletter that features interviews with renowned business titans, authors, and thought leaders. Additionally, Miller authors a weekly leadership column for Inc. magazine.

Miller leads the strategy, development, and publication of FranklinCovey's bestselling books and thought leadership. He is the author of FranklinCovey's Management Mess to Leadership Success: 30 Challenges to Become the Leader You Would Follow and is the coauthor of The Wall Street Journal bestseller, Everyone Deserves a Great Manager: The 6 Critical Practices for Leading a Team.

In his previous roles as executive vice president of Business Development and chief marketing officer, Scott helped lead the global transformation of FranklinCovey's brand to match the transformation of the company. Before that, as general manager of Client Facilitation Services, Miller worked with thousands of clients and client facilitators in numerous markets in more than thirty countries. He has presented to hundreds of audiences across every industry and loves to share his unique journey as an unfiltered leader thriving in today's highly filtered corporate culture.

Miller joined the Covey Leadership Center in 1996 as a client partner with the Education Division, which focused on serving K-12 schools and higher education.
